Corporate Membership Program Vendor Benefits

Individual Membership—By participating in the Corporate Membership program, five (5) of your employees are eligible for membership to the ESD Association. Memberships to the Association are individual memberships and run on a calendar year (January-December). Enclosed in this packet you will find 5 membership applications. Please have 5 selected employees complete the applications and return them to the Association Headquarters either by fax or mail. They in turn will receive a membership packet that will include their membership card and certificate, a copy of the latest Symposium Proceedings, and other Association information. As members, your five employees will have access to our Members Only section of the ESD Association's web site (www.esda.org), receive a discount on publications, pay reduced registration fees at the annual Symposium, receive the Association's newsletter, Threshold, and be eligible for other benefits. The memberships included in your Corporate Sponsorship Program are good for membership year _____.

Standard Subscription—You will receive a complete set of all Association Standards, Standard Test Methods, Standard Practices, Drafts, Advisories and Technical Reports plus updates and new documents during the year. ESD TR 20.20-2000 may be purchased separately. Your subscription is in effect from _____ through _____. Please complete the enclosed Standard Subscription contact sheet in order to begin receiving your documents.

Symposium Booth--The annual EOS/ESD Symposium will be held _____ in _____. One (1) standard 10 foot booth space in the exhibit hall of the Symposium will be reserved for your company, pending contract completion. Please return the enclosed coupon to ESD Headquarters to receive your exhibitor contract and specifics for the show no later than _____. Be sure to include the Exhibitor Contact information (telephone, e-mail, etc.) with the coupon.

Website Buyers Guide Listing—You will receive one listing on the Buyers Guide section of the ESD web site, www.esda.org . Your company will be searchable via specific product, geographic location or by name. The Buyers Guide is accessible to members and non-members visiting the site. The Buyers Guide also features a hot link to your company's web site for specific, detailed information regarding your products or services. Please complete the enclosed Web Site Buyers Guide Listing Order Form and return to the ESD Association Headquarters. Your listing will run for one year. To activate this benefit, complete and return the “Web Site Buyers Guide” form.

Institutional Listing in Threshold--Threshold is the ESD Association's bi-monthly newsletter. All members of the Association receive a notice via e-mail of new issues posted on the web site. Threshold is available to all ESDA web site users. The Threshold PDF file will include your company's listing. To enhance your company's exposure, your listing will include a hot link to your company's web page. Your listing runs for one year or 6 consecutive issues. Please complete the enclosed Institutional Listing Form for Threshold and return to ESDA Headquarters.

Educational Units--As a Corporate Membership program participant, you are entitled to (5) educational units offered from _____ to _____. These units may be used toward tutorials offered at the Symposium or any seminars offered throughout the year by the ESD Association. Registrants should complete and return a registration form to ESD Headquarters. Registration forms will be processed as received and are subject to space availability. Each unit is valued at $495 each. Units may be combined, however, the Association will not refund any portion of the dollar amount not used. (For example: if a seminar costs $800 per individual, you may use two coupons to cover the entire cost of the seminar. However, the Association will not refund or credit you the additional $150 value of the combined coupons).
